GOVERNOR MARVIN GRIFFIN

BISHOP ARTHUR J. MOORE

HON. EUGENE COOK

MR. WALTER HARTRIDGE

COL. ALLEN PHELPS JULIAN

HON. ALEX. A. LAWRENCE

MR PAUL R. ERVIN

Dr. B. Joseph Martin, president of Wesleyan College and Irene (Sewell) Hobby, president of the Alumnae Association, will be hosts to a distinguished group of visitors at Wesleyan, Saturday, June 1, 1957.

Highlight of Alumnae Week-end will be an historical address by Georgia's Governor, Marvin Griffin, in the George Foster Pierce Chapel at Old Wesleyan at 11:00 A.M. on June 1.

Other events on the crowded program will be an evening business session on Friday, May 31; Luncheon in Anderson Dining Room at Rivoli after Governor Griffin's speech; and, immediately following lunch, the special induction of the Class of 1957 into the Alumnae Association, which will be held in air-conditioned Porter auditorium. After the induction, Dr. and Mrs. Martin and the National Alumnae officers will entertain the special guests, alumnae, and the 1957 graduates at a reception in the Comer Art Gallery. In the opposite gallery, three diplomas—that given to Catherine Brewer, the first graduate of Wesleyan, in 1840; that presented to Robert L. Walker, first male graduate of Wesleyan Conservatory, in 1899; and that awarded to Catherine Alley, first Rivoli campus graduate, in 1929, will be displayed.

Governor Marvin Griffin

The speaker, who has distinguished himself as an editor, soldier, public servant, and state official, is a graduate of Bainbridge High School, and he received the A.B. degree from The Citadel, South Carolina's military college.

A Presbyterian, and a former deacon of his church, Governor Griffin is a member of the Masonic Order, the Shrine, American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, the 40 and 8, Loyal Order of Moose, Fraternal Order of Eagles, Junior Order United American Mechanics, Woodman of the World, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, Sigma Delta Chi, Gridiron Club, Sons of the American Revolution and the Ahepa. He is a past president of the Bainbridge Lions Club and the Bainbridge and Decatur County Chambers of Commerce.

Governor Griffin and his wife, the former Elizabeth Smith of Winchester, Virginia, have one son, Samuel Marvin, Jr., who is attending the Georgia Institute of Technology.

Guests For Week End

To Introduce Governor Griffin

Hon. Eugene Cook will introduce Governor Marvin Griffin. Mr. Cook was graduated from Mercer in 1927 and was voted Master Mercerian. He has served as Attorney General for the state of Georgia for 12 years, the longest time this position has been held by one man. He is the immediate past President of the National Association of Attorneys General, and is a trustee of Mercer University.

The husband of Julia Adelaide McClatchey, Wesleyan Alumna, class of 1927, Mr. Cook has long been a friend of Wesleyan and has given generously of his service.

Historian-Author, Director

Bringing greetings from the Georgia Historical Society will be Mr. Walter Hartridge of Savannah, Georgia, graduate of Harvard, author of several books of Historical Subjects, and president of the Georgia Historical Society for many years. He will be present for this ceremony dedicating the marker.

Coming from the Atlanta Historical Society will be Colonel Allen Phelps Julian, United States Army, retired, who was born at Dixon Nebraska, but lived in Indiana until he entered the Indiana National Guard in 1921 and from that time had been in some form of military activity until March 31, 1956, when he retired.

Immediately following his retirement he became Director of the Atlanta Historical Society in which city he is active in many social and civic clubs.

To Present Marker

Alexander A. Lawrence, Attorney-at-Law, of Savannah, who is one of three members of the Georgia Historical Commission, will present the Marker which will be given to the College by this Commission.

It will be placed on the grounds near the Comer building, the original building of Wesleyan College.

It is an honor for Wesleyan Alumnae to have Mr. Alexander A. Lawrence among her distinguished guests for this Historical program. He is a graduate of the University of Georgia, is a member of a prominent family steeped in the traditions of our state, and is the author of several outstanding law books. He is in great demand as speaker for many occasions.

Bishop To Preach Baccalaureate Sermon

"Democracy and Christianity are the secrets of Bishop Arthur J. Moore's phenomenal rise to world eminence, prestige and power"—since he became a member of the South Georgia Methodist Conference in 1909. After serving pastorates, he was made a general evangelist attaining national renown in that field. Further pastorates at San Antonio and Birmingham were followed by his election as Bishop in 1930. Going from the Pacific Coast Area, Bishop Moore was sent to Mission work in China, Japan, Czechoslovakia, Belgium, Belgium Congo, Poland and Korea. He is truly the "International Ambassador" of the Methodist Church.

Bishop Moore was president of Wesleyan College in 1941-42. He is an author, having written several books, is a Mason, Knight Templar and Shriner. He is a trustee of Wesleyan and of Emory University. He and Mrs. Moore make their home in Atlanta.

Bishop Arthur Moore, presiding Bishop of the Methodist Church of this area, will preach the baccalaureate sermon in the Porter Family Memorial Auditorium at four o'clock Sunday afternoon, June 2. This hour is chosen so there will be no conflict with regular church services in Macon.

Mr. Paul Ervin Commencement Speaker

The former conference lay leader of the Western North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Church, Mr. Paul R. Ervin of Charlotte, North Carolina will speak at Wesleyan's 1957 commencement exercises.

Mr. Ervin, a well known attorney, is the son, and the brother of a Methodist minister. He is a graduate of Trinity College of Duke University and the Duke University School of Law, and has served a term in the North Carolina Legislature.

For the past sixteen years, Mr. Ervin has been a member of the Jurisdictional Conference of the Methodist Church, and is serving as a member of the General Conference of the Church.

Last year, for the first time, the hour of graduation was moved from the long established mid-morning service to 9:30 A.M. This innovation received such favorable acclaim from the graduating class, parents and friends, that it has been decided to continue with the early morning schedule.

You are invited to be present for each of the services in the Porter Family Memorial Auditorium.

The Intangible Wesleyan

BY GRETCHEN NELSON

Miss Wesleyan of 1957

"We are all here because we want to learn something. Perhaps some want to learn more about chemistry. Some others want to know more about English literature. Still others want to learn how to better get along with people, while others want to learn how to be independent . . . how it feels to be out from under the protective wing of Mother and Daddy."

Truly all people come to Wesleyan for a variety of reasons as was brought out by a Wesleyan student in a speech given at the formal opening of the college last September. Because every student comes to Wesleyan seeking her own personal goals, I'm sure that Wesleyan means something different to every girl that enters its gates. Each becomes enclosed in that intangible thing which we call the "Wesleyan spirit," and as the years go by she grows into it, interpreting it in her own unique way.

During the past few months, I have thought more and more about the meaning that Wesleyan has held for me. I suppose every college senior approaching graduation reflects upon this question in one way or another. If, three years ago, I had been asked what Wesleyan really meant in my life, I'm sure that I would have answered, "Oh, a million things. It means studies, the Honor System, dances, big week-ends, Vespers, Stunt Night, Homecoming and soccer games, and many other things too numerous to mention!" And, I'm sure that I would have turned from the person posing the question quite confident that I really knew and had put into adequate words exactly what Wesleyan meant to me.

How very much difference a few years can make, for I have found that as the years have passed quickly by, it has become increasingly difficult to put Wesleyan's meaning into words. How can you put "friendship and concern for another's well-being" into adequate words? These things cannot be touched, only sensed and lived. Each year that I have lived, played and worked at Wesleyan and each new friend that it has been my privilege to make has deepened my sensitiveness to the true meaning of that "Wesleyan spirit." Suddenly I have realized that Wesleyan doesn't merely consist of a group of girls living and studying together. It consists of an "honor-bound cooperative togetherness." Why does it consist of this? Much of the answer lies in the great heritage from past Wesleyannes and in the willingness of the present and future Wesleyannes to carry these worthy traditions and ideals to fulfillment.

As Freshmen, we came to Wesleyan well-knowing that our lives were to be guided by that creation they called the "honor system." It was to be a new experience for us, and we wanted to try very hard to remember every rule and regulation so that we wouldn't consciously or unconsciously break our honor-pledge. Little did we know that the honor system meant not only rules and regulations but was, instead, the foundation of Wesleyan's wholesomeness; little did we know that the spirit afforded by this feeling of honesty, goodness, and faithfulness to ourselves and our neighbors was grounded in this honor system. But, the days, weeks, and months began to pass, and we became completely wrapped up in our new Wesleyan life. We began molding ourselves, perhaps unconsciously, into a "togetherness."

Although the wholesomeness of Wesleyan is grounded in its fine ideals and traditions, its spirit changes somewhat and takes on new meaning as each year goes by. This alteration is inevitable because Wesleyan is the people that make it up . . . the students, the administration, the faculty, and all those who help to make it what it is. Because Wesleyan is "people" it takes on a new personality each year as daughters leave its gates and enter its gates.

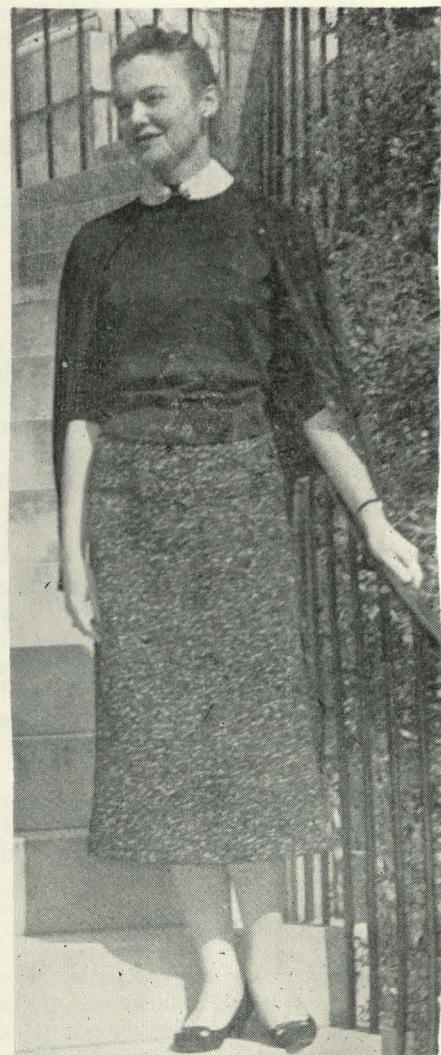

We, who are leaving its gates this June will take with us a great deal, but we will only be able to take with us as much as we have left behind; we can only get out of anything what we put into it. We will take with us, besides an excellent well-rounded education from studies, an excellent education afforded us by the people we've known, the good times and the sad times we have shared, and the experiences of which we have been a part.

There are many ways in which we may continue to support Wesleyan, and one of the most fulfilling will be through frequent communication with our Alumnae Association. In addition to this communication, we can and will live a life that will exemplify the high ideals by which we have been surrounded no mat-

Historical Marker to be Erected

On Old Wesleyan’s Campus

Dear Friends:

Old Wesleyan becomes an historic shrine June First! The occasion is statewide and state backed. Reverberations have spread. State officials and state historians will honor the occasion. A marker perpetuating Wesleyan's fame for being the world's first college chartered to grant degrees to women will be erected by the Georgia Historical Commission.

Plan now to be present on this historic date at 11:00 o'clock in the old Chapel. Whether this is your reunion or not, come! If a reservation at Wesleyan is unavailable, there are plenty of motels and hotels. This occasion belongs to you. Alumnae business is scheduled for Friday evening only. Your opinions and cooperation are sought. Write your contemporaries to join you. Class gab-fests will be held in designated rooms after the program.

Thunderous applause favoring the perpetuation of old Wesleyan rang out indelibly at commencement three years ago. Work toward this has been ardent and constant. Now, we present this shrine to the world. If this project is to succeed, your enthusiasm cannot wane.

When you receive your invitation to join the Historical Society, whose aim is to restore and maintain the main floor as an historic shrine and Alumnae hall, mail in your membership at once to:

Mrs. Sue Tanner McKenzie
2928 Habersham Rd., N.W.
Atlanta, Georgia

Enlist members from non-alumnae friends interested in cultural projects.

Regular membership	$ 5.00 per year
Sustaining	25.00
Patron	100.00 or more

Send gifts or loans for the Museum—not necessarily Wesleyanna, to:

Mrs. Alleen Poer Hinton
Old Wesleyan—College Street.
Macon, Georgia

Your service is needed also. What can you do? What does your husband do or sell? We can use practically everything. Group VI, 1940-49, of the Atlanta Wesleyan Alumnae Club, assumed responsibility for contacting eight major Oil Companies and publishers of their maps. This Group will put Wesleyan “on the map.” Also, before commencement, they plan to fill radio and T. V. calendars with Wesleyan. If your town has a TV or Radio station, please assume responsibility for the same service.

Create interest, raise funds, promote the project in every way possible. Once we are maintaining the floor successfully, we will be of great aid to Wesleyan at Rivoli.

Remember generously your Loyalty Fund!

Yours Sincerely,

(Signed) Irene (Sewell) Hobby

Music, Drama, Art

. . . . The Wesleyan College Symphony Orchestra presented a concert Tuesday, February 5, directed by Dr. Sigurd Jorgenson, Dean of School of Fine Arts. Miss Beatrice Horsbrugh was concert mistress. Included in this orchestra were six first violins, ten second violins, violas, cellos, oboes, bassoons, trumpets, trombones, percussion instruments and piano.

A varied program included music by Mozart, Sibelius, Bizet, Strauss. Judging from applause, the audience seemed to receive the greatest satisfaction from Bolero by Ravel.

. . . . A Room-ful of Roses, an arena production written by Edith Sommers and presented by Wesleyan speech department and was the third show of the season. The able cast gave a splendid performance which added more credit to the Speech Department and its Director Ruth Simonson, Technical Director Maynard R. Samsen and Staff Assistant, Mary Pate.

. . . . From February 12 through 28, color reproductions of famous works by Founders of the School of Modern Painting were on exhibit.

These prints were given to the Art Department of Wesleyan by the family of Janice Walker, of the class of '47, who is now Mrs. John E. Miller of Dayton, Ohio.

Among artists represented in this collection are Renoir, Roualt, Degas, Toulouse Lautrec, Cezanne, Van Gogh, Gaugain, Picasso, Braque, Matisse including Rousseau. These prints formulate a digest of the important developments in the modern art from the Impressionist school until about 1925.

. . . . The Photographic Exhibit chosen by Life Magazine from studies by Otto Hagel, was shown March 1-21. Emerson's New England, composed of photographs of Concord featured exteriors and interiors of houses like Old House of Wayside—Other pictures shown were Walden, Brook Farm, Haverhill, Cambridge, Boston and Concord River.

. . . . Susan Maxwell, preparatory student, was presented in her Senior piano recital Sunday afternoon, February 24.

Among the selections she chose for her program were Prelude and Fugue by Bach, Perpetual Motion by Weber; an Intermezzo and Rhapsody by Brahms. Throughout the afternoon the young artist showed wonderful understanding of music and came to a brilliant climax when she did the Grieg Concerto with her teacher, Miss Gladys Pinkston, who played the orchestral accompaniment at the second piano.

Susan is the daughter of Elsie (Ludden) Maxwell, class of 1933, and Bertram Maxwell of Macon.

. . . . Miss Linda Lane, daughter of Linda (Anderson) Lane '19, pianist and member of the music faculty at Wesleyan College, appeared in concert on February 26. Her program included numbers by Mendelssohn, Rachmaninoff, and Chopin. The climax of the concert was reached when Miss Lane was assisted by John O'steen, also of the music faculty, for the dual-piano performance of Rachmaninoff.

. . . . Norman McLean, bass baritone, and Mrs. McLean, mezzo soprano, accompanied by Mrs. Doris O. Jelks at the piano, presented a program of German Leider on March 4. Selections consisted entirely of nine songs by Schubert and Schuman.

. . . . Miss Marjorie Suhs, member of the music faculty, presented a piano recital on March 12, with works by Bach, Schumann and Ravel as major presentations. Miss Suhs was a former soloist with the Waukesha Symphony Orchestra.

. . . . On March 14, the National Ballet of Canada presented a brilliant performance under the auspices of Wesleyan College.

The program of the evening included three one-act ballets, Les Rendevous, Les Sylphides and Postscript. The dancers were handsomely matched, young, vital and well trained.

. . . . Mrs. Doris Onderdonk Jelks, head of the Wesleyan piano department, appeared in concert Tuesday evening, April 9. The recital was the sixth in a series given by the Wesleyan faculty during the school year.

Mrs. Jelks chose music from three periods to present. The Sonata in B Flat Major by Mozart as her classical selection; her contemporary choice was Sonata by Aaron Copland, American composer. She chose for the third period the Romantic number Concerto No. 1 in F Sharp Minor by Rachmaninoff and was assisted by William Zimmerman of the faculty, at the second piano, who played the orchestral accompaniment.

ART WINDOW ADDS RELIGIOUS ATMOSPHERE

by Jan Bolt

Recent visitors to the campus have commented on the church-like effect achieved in the auditorium for religious chapels. Wesleyan College is indebted to Dean Sigurd Jorgenson of the Fine Arts School for his inspiration to have a stained glass window constructed for the chapel. Mr. George Gaines of the Art Department designed the window which is painted with commercial lacquer on a reinforced plastic screen. Mr. Samsen of the Drama Department is responsible for hanging and lighting the window. The purpose of the window is to give the auditorium a more worshipful atmosphere for religious chapels. The general architecture of the auditorium and the color of the chapel choir robes were considered in the design and colors used; and no attempt was made to symbolize or suggest any subject matter. Mr. Gaines' design was executed under his direction by the two dimensional design class of first semester. Members of the class were: Barbara Betts, Gloria Boyette, Elizabeth Hankinson, Ann Harp, Katherine Harrison, Rose Pickett, and Rachael Ann Wheeler.

Presser Foundation

President Visits Wesleyan

Dr. John Ronold Ott, President of The Presser Foundation, and Mrs. Ott, were guests of Dr. and Mrs. B. Joseph Martin and Wesleyan officials at the College Wednesday, March 13. They attended Chapel services at which time Dr. Frank Robinson of St. Luke Methodist Church, of Columbus, spoke on "The Two Worlds We Live In Today." The Wesleyan Choir, in their green vestments with the realistic painting of a stained glass window behind them, and with soft light reflecting around them, created a very beautiful setting for the worship hour.

Silas Johnson Church Dedicated March 31

The Silas Johnson Memorial Methodist Church was officially opened on March 31, 1957, with the pastor, Rev. C. S. Easom, delivering the sermon.

The church is on the Baxley Circuit and the church grounds adjoin the property where Dr. Johnson was born, which was a grant from the King of England before the American Revolution. The land has been in the Johnson Family since the grant was made and a brother now lives there. The family cemetery is just across the road from the church.

The church was filled to capacity with friends and relatives coming from Jacksonville, Brunswick, Augusta, Jesup, Hazlehurst and other places. Miss Frances Strohecker, Secretary to President B. Joseph Martin of Wesleyan College, representing the college since Dr. Martin was unable to be there due to a preaching engagement, she having been associated with Dr. Johnson for a number of years in the work of the church and Wesleyan College.

Following the service a picnic dinner was served, and a special program of singing and brief talks by the lay leaders of other churches was held during the afternoon.

Dr. Klemer Takes New Post

Dr. Richard H. Klemer, head of the Sociology Department for the past four years, has accepted a position as associate general director of the American Institute of Family Relations in Los Angeles. Dr. Klemer will be in charge of the education department at the Institute. He will also be the associate of Dr. Paul Popenoe, general director of the center.

Dr. Klemer's work will consist of counseling in the Institute's inter-personal relations program to help young women develop the personality traits that will make them attractive marriage partners. Dr. Klemer has done extensive research concerning reasons why some people marry readily and others do not.

We regret that Dr. Klemer and his family are leaving Wesleyan where he has been assistant to the president, an outstanding member of the faculty and a valued consultant to the alumnae editor.

As Dr. Klemer goes to his new field of work our best wishes go with him for great success.

Spring Holidays In New York

By Jane Powers

Dr. Gulnar K. Bosch, professor of art history at Wesleyan, conducted her annual tour to New York and Washington during spring holidays.

Fourteen Wesleyan students went on the trip, which was held March 22-30.

The group left Wesleyan Friday, March 22, at 4:00 p.m. They ate supper at the station restaurant in Atlanta, and continued on "The Southerner" to New York, arriving at 2:00 p.m. Saturday. They stayed at the Biltmore Hotel, Madison at 43rd.

Art museums visited by the group included the Frick Collection, Metropolitan Museum, The Cloisters, Museum of Modern Art, Guggenheim Museum, and the Whitney Museum of American Art.

They ate at several foreign restaurants: Russian Tea Room; the Miyako, Japanese; Gripsholm, Swedish; Whittier's, Italian; Lee's, Chinese; and Baghdad, Arabian.

Entertainment included the play "Major Barbara;" a musical comedy, "Li'l Abner;" an evening at the Copacabana, starring Roberta Sherwood, and the Ray Bolger TV show.

Sunday the group heard Dr. Ralph W. Sockman, Christ Church, preach, and visited several other churches.

Friday, March 29, they left New York and arrived in Washington about noon. Here they enjoyed a tour of the National Gallery and dinner at Bonat's a French restaurant. They left Washington Friday night and arrived in Macon Saturday morning.

The students who accompanied Dr. Bosch were: Julia Stillwell, Ann Middlebrooks, Bee Seckinger, Beth Hodgins, Nancy Stevenson, Sue Rogers, Shirley Fincannon, Kathy Keck, Ann Leighton, Jane Powers, Rosa Leighty, Nancy LeGrand, Sandra Chappell, and Gloria Boyette.

Congratulations To These Alumnae!

Virginia McJenkin, '27, Director of Libraries for Fulton County schools, named Atlanta's Woman of the Year in Education for 1956.

Ruby McKinney, '13, English teacher at Valdosta High School chosen of the Year from Georgia's Eight Congressional District.

Anne Morrison, '46 was chosen Teacher of the Year in Waycross. She teaches tenth grade English in High School.

Alumna Awarded Fellowship

A 1956 graduate of Wesleyan College, Carolyn Freund of Lantana, Florida, has been awarded a Rotary Foundation Fellowship for advanced study during the 1957-58 academic year.

One of the 123 outstanding graduate students from 30 countries to receive a Rotary Fellowship Carolyn will study English literature at one of the major universities in the British Isles to further her teaching career. The Rotary Club of Lake Worth, Florida recommended her for the fellowship.

At Wesleyan College, where she held a scholarship or assistanceship for four years, Carolyn was also elected to the Phi Delta Phi, the scholastic honor society, chosen for Who's Who Among American Colleges and Universities, was editor of the college annual, The Veteropt, a junior class officer, and a Junior Marshal, as well as participating widely in school sports.

Newnan Club Meets

On March 19, 1957, the Wesleyan Club of Newnan met at the home of Irene (Murph) Banks and Virginia (Banks) St. John.

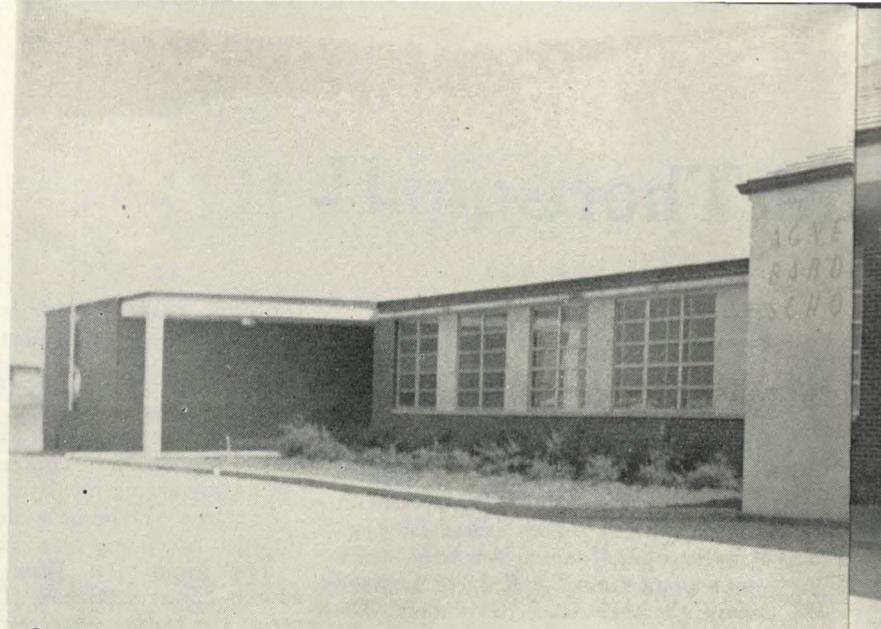

A brief business meeting was held. The only item of business was the election of a president for the coming year. Maryella Camp was elected, without opposition. Virginia (Banks) St. John presided over the meeting.

Virginia welcomed the guests—girls from the senior class of Newnan High School who are planning to attend college and the Newnan girls who are now students at Wesleyan. Each of the latter gave a brief talk about what Wesleyan has to offer its students. Those speaking were: Virginia Moody, Jane Nixon, Margaret Moody, and Lynn McDonald.

At the conclusion of the program a tea was enjoyed by all present. Janie Lee (Johnson) Banks served punch.

Besides the guests, those attending this meeting were:

Macon Schools Names

By Ann Ma, A

Agnes Barden, 1890

Miss Agnes Barden, Miss Florence Bernd, Miss Margaret McEvoy, and Miss Rosa Taylor—Wesleyan alumnae, long a part of everything fine, cultural, worthwhile in our city—have received another honor. Their names have been given to four of our Macon schools.

Miss Agnes, member of Phi Mu Sorority and 1890 graduate of Wesleyan became a teacher of the first grade and principal of Alexander School II when it opened in 1902; and it was there that I first knew her. She was my teacher, and she became my life-long friend. In 1917 she was elected supervisor of primary grades in our Bibb County School system and in that capacity acted as guide and counsellor of teachers of young children. Miss Agnes asked for retirement in 1942 after fifty-two years of service, but she was far from inactive in those last years. She served as superintendent of the primary department of the Sunday School of her church, the First Presbyterian, until her sudden and brief illness in 1952 took her away. Miss Agnes acted as chaplain of the United Daughters of the Confederacy for many years and was vitally interested in adding the study of religion to the curriculum of our public schools. In 1949 she was honored by the students at Lanier High School for Girls, now Miller Junior High, who organized the Agnes Barden Future Teachers Club; and in 1954 by the Bibb County Board of Education, who named the Agnes Barden School for her. On November of that year ceremonies were held at the school, at which time Mr. Walter T. Johnson, member of the Board, paid her a beautiful tribute in his dedication speech.

Florence Bernd, 1888

Miss Florence, beloved teacher of ancient history to hundreds of Macon high school students, became an institution long before her death in 1942. Honor graduate of Wesleyan in 1888 and of Vassar where she was elected to Phi Beta Kappa, traveller in many parts of the world, lecturer, organizer and first president of the Macon-Bibb County PTA council—Miss Florence lives on in the memory of all who knew her. She was a master teacher—dramatizing her instruction by the use of music, pageants, and art, she made history a living thing to her boys at Lanier High School. More than that, she taught them honor with her slogan, "Honor First." That slogan has been adopted at Mercer University with their newly organized honor system. An unusual tribute came to Miss Florence when the Alexander School Board with which she had no affiliation adopted resolutions of appreciation of her work in our high schools. After her retirement she organized the Materials Bureau where she placed many treasures collected during her travels—all for the benefit and pleasure of Macon children. Desirous of helping others, Miss Florence established a Wesleyan scholarship for worthwhile students. In the Florence Bernd School are her portrait, painted by artist Frank Herring of Milledgeville, and a bust of her, presented in loving memory by one of "her boys", Macon sculptor, Marshall Daugherty.

THE WESLEYAN ALUMNAE

Wesleyan Alumnae

Ba, A. B. '46

Rosa Taylor, 1892

Miss Rosa, whose death occurred in 1955, was a Wesleyan graduate at the age of seventeen. Her longest service in our schools was as principal of Whittle School for fifty-two of her fifty-four years of teaching. Miss Rosa had the happy faculty of knowing just how to deal with each individual to bring out the best in him; and when she retired in 1946, there were literally thousands of her boys and girls who had been enriched by having known her. Perhaps the happiest experience of her late years was the giant birthday party planned for her by former pupils who gathered at Whittle for the celebration honoring their beloved teacher. In 1954 Wesleyan named Miss Rosa as one to receive a citation for "distinguished achievement reflecting honor" upon the college, and in that citation, published in an earlier issue of The Wesleyan Alumnae, her many worthwhile activities have been listed. The Bibb County Board of Education has acted wisely in naming a new school under construction the Rosa Taylor School.

Margaret McEvoy, 1880

It is fitting that Macon's newest high school for girls, to be opened in September, has been named for the long-time principal of Lanier High for Girls, Miss Margaret McEvoy, who had served fifty-two years in our schools when she retired in 1933. Miss Margaret, friend of youth and youthful herself—she learned to drive her car at the age of sixty-five—had taught almost every grade before she became teacher of English history at Gresham High School. I recall her in the classroom—witty, forceful, friendly, informed—she loved her students, and they loved and respected her. Miss Margaret was active in many fields. She rode horseback, played the piano, painted, and worked for Wesleyan and her church, Mulberry Street Methodist. She was honored by the Macon PTA and by the National Congress of Parents and Teachers. Her girls at Lanier gave the Margaret McEvoy scholarship to Wesleyan which aids at least one girl each year. She herself gave the Pauline Logan Findlay scholarship in memory of her friend. At Lanier and its successor, Miller Junior High, the best all-round girl receives the coveted Margaret McEvoy cup each year. And now, a beautiful new girls' school will be called the Margaret McEvoy High School, truly a deserved honor for one who spent her life in serving others.

Social Sessions

International Guests

By Jane Powers

Foreign students attending Georgia Colleges under sponsorship of the state's Rotary Clubs were guests on the Wesleyan campus Wednesday morning, February 13.

The 37 students were in Macon as guests of the Macon Rotary Club. They stayed in homes of the Macon members.

The students attended a coke party from 10 to 11:30 A.M. Wednesday. Wesleyan alumnae, faculty and students greeted the group and later showed them around campus.

The students represented many foreign countries, including Germany, India, Norway, Mexico, France, Scotland, Korea and Chile.

"English, to me, is the hardest language, especially English literature," said Young Koo of Seoul, Korea, who studies accounting at the University of Georgia.

Odd Haugen of Scordlandsbanen, Norway, attends Valdosta State College. He said he stays in the home of a Methodist family in Valdosta, which he enjoys. "Macon is a very friendly city," he said. Odd studies education at Valdosta State College and hopes to enter theology school when he returns to Norway.

Jose Galindo-Lara, of Maria-Elena, Chile, said that students in Chile are placed in major fields according to their scores on placement tests. They are not allowed to study the profession of their choice.

A Wesleyan student, Claude Loubier, of Marseilles, France, is sponsored by the Macon Rotary Club.

While in Macon, the students were guests of the Rotary Club at a barbecue supper at Stone Creek Lodge, where a number of Wesleyan students were also guests.

Parents Day

More than 200 parents of Wesleyan College Students attended the annual Parents Day, which the Wesleyan Alumnae Association and Wesleyan College sponsored, on March 2, 1957.

The visitors began arriving at 2 P.M. on Saturday for a program including tours of the campus, introductions of faculty members, a water show in the gymnasium and a faculty-parent party in the student lounge. They were guests of Wesleyan College for dinner in the Anderson dining room, after which the students entertained their parents at the annual stunt night in the Porter Auditorium.

Parents from Georgia, South Carolina, Florida, Tennessee and Virginia were present.

Cartersville

Margaret (Smith) Mines entertained at a delightfully informal party, Saturday afternoon, January 26, for the Wesleyan Alumnae, at their annual get-together.

Spring flowers were arranged in rooms where the following guests assembled at three o'clock: Frances (Stodghill) Atwater, Frances (Rice) Warlick, Irma (Bell) Jackson, Iva (Dorsey) Jolly, Bertha (Adams) Ault, Ora (Bates) Ingram, Lizzie (Leake) Henderson, Lois (Daniel) Brandon, Romie (Leake) Milam, Minnie (Leake) Conyers, Deaver (Hemrick) Cook, Guill (Montfort) Jackson.

Mrs. Bill Smith assisted her daughter in entertaining.

Atlanta Club Has Interesting Calendar

Atlanta Club and Rich's honored Betsy Hopkins Lockridge at an Autograph Tea in October.

Mildred (Gower) Sims, president of the Atlanta Club and Dessa (Hays) Asher represented the Alumnae at an unveiling of the portrait of the late Louise (Frederick) Hayes 1900, former State Historian at the Georgia State Department of Archives and History.

On November 3, 1956, at the Atlanta Woman's Club, a brunch was given honoring Florence (Trimble) Jones, Alumnae Secretary, Miss Carolyn Churchill, assistant to the President, and Dr. T. F. Gossett who spoke to the guests.

Several Alumnae and their husbands attended the Woman of the Year banquet January 29, at Piedmont Driving Club at which time Virginia McJenkins, AB '27, was honored as Woman of the Year in Education.

A Fashion Show-Benefit Bridge, February 23, at Druid Hills Golf Club netted the Scholarship program over $300. Dorothy (Kinnett) Mozley '46, second vice-president, was general chairman.

Atlanta Club was hostess for GEA Luncheon, March 22, in Candler dining room at YWCA. Martha (Aiken) Pendergrast was general chairman.

The annual meeting of the Atlanta Club will be held in May when election of officers will be held.

THE WESLEYAN ALUMNAE

Greenville, S. C.

At the lovely new home of Lenelle (Lee) Maxwell, '31, 400 Woodland Way, Greenville, S. C., the Wesleyan Alumnae gathered on Friday afternoon, January 18, for their annual "get-together."

Wesleyannes in that city have long shown interest in their alma mater and have, all through the years, rendered valuable service to the College.

Ruth Diggs, '20, president of the group, presided at the short business session. Florence T. Jones from Macon, Alumnae Secretary, told about progress being made at the College, mentioned some of the needs. She also mentioned the efforts of the alumnae to establish a Museum at the Old Building in connection with the space on the main floor which was assigned to the Alumnae at Commencement, 1956. Jeannette Wallace Oliphant from Wesleyan was also present and showed colored slides of campus activities, and of the new Porter Family Memorial Building.

Other Alumnae who enjoyed Lenelle's gracious hospitality were: Lilla Thomason Dalton, '44, Sarah Earle, '40, Frances (Canipelli) Harper, '23, Ruth (Daniel) Harper, '23, Josephine (Singletary) Hinson, '35, Winifred Rogers, '23, Mozelle (Grace) Shires, '32, Marjorie Watson, '32.

Griffin

Saturday afternoon, February 23, Wesleyan Alumnae of Griffin were invited to the home of Ruth (Elder) Nealy to an informal meeting. The guests assembled at three o'clock to hear the latest news of what is happening at Wesleyan and to see many pictures of the new Porter Family Memorial Auditorium, other buildings, pictures of student activities, faculty and assembled groups of alumnae at the College.

Evelyn McGarrity, 1948, whose mezzo-soprano voice, and whose gracious personality makes her one of the most popular members of the Fine Arts faculty, sang a group of familiar folk songs accompanied by Miss Marjorie Sush, also an accomplished member of Wesleyan's faculty.

The re-election of Ruth (Elder) Nealy as president and Katherine (Hall) Arnold as secretary was unanimous.

Plans were made for a tea to which Junior and Senior High School students, interested in college, would be invited. This party will be at the play house of Olive Dent (Manget) Bramblett.

At the close of the meeting the Wesleyan Alma Mater was sung, then the hostess invited the guests into the dining room which was decorated with spring flowers. Mrs. Elder, the mother of the hostess, poured tea at the beautifully appointed table.

Valdosta

On Wednesday, January 30, the Valdosta Club had a luncheon at the Daniel Ashley Hotel. Grace (Freeman) Dennis and Elizabeth (Brogden) Tart were responsible for the beautifully decorated luncheon table.

Myra Jane (Holman) Brice, president, presided at the meeting, introducing Dr. Gulnar Bosch, head of the Art Department at Wesleyan College, Irene (Sewell) Hobby of Atlanta, the National President of the Alumnae Association and Florence (Trimble) Jones, Wesleyan Alumnae Secretary.

Dr. Bosch gave an informative talk on the high standards and curriculum at Wesleyan and told how the program at Wesleyan fills the needs of the students for today.

Irene (Sewell) Hobby and Florence (Trimble) Jones discussed plans for establishing a museum at the old College and emphasized the necessity of Alumnae keeping in touch with the school, to know its problems and to be representative Wesleyanne's in their community at all times.

Election of officers for the coming year was held and are as follows:

President, Alice (Williams) Jarnagin, Vice-President, Mary (Lanunius) Beaumont, Secretary and Treasurer, Virginia (Callaway) Beckman.

Plans were made for another meeting in the late spring to entertain high school students.

The following alumnae attended the luncheon:

Martha (Wiseman) McKey, Ouida (Carter) Castleberry, Sara Frances (Moseley) Smith, Alice (Williams) Jarnagin, Mary (Launius) Beaumont, Virginia (Callaway) Beckman, Grace (Freeman) Dennis, Elizabeth (Brogden) Tart, Jane (Wilkin) Anthony Myra Jane (Holman) Brice, Ora (Rawlins) Carter, Sue (Mansfield) Amons, Betty (Hitch) Owens, Philena

Augusta

From Augusta Chronicle, Jan. 17, '57

Mrs. W. Edward Clark, first president and founder of the Wesleyan Club in Augusta had the pleasure Tuesday afternoon of entertaining the Club whose new president, Mrs. Quentin Jauquet, (Annie Lillian Mann 1941) is a niece of Dr. and Mrs. Clark.

The tea table was covered with a Chinese embroidered cloth and the Wesleyan colors were carried out in the refreshments and decorations. Mrs. Betty Clark Durst and Mrs. Jauquet assisted the hostess at this delightful Wesleyan tea.

Members of the club made plans for spring activities which will honor girls going to Wesleyan next year.

March 27

The Wesleyan Alumnae Club honored Wesleyan students who were home for Spring holidays, and prospective students who are now high school seniors at a beautiful tea in the home of Dr. G. D. Stephenson and Lilly Stephenson on Lake Forest Drive, March 27.

Beth Hankinson, Marcia Adams and Harriet Johnson, Wesleyan students, highlighted the program by presenting sketches on "Life at Wesleyan Today."

The officers of the Augusta Club are Annie Lillian (Mann) Jauquet, president, Helen (Outz) DuPree, vice-president, Lilly (Lake) Stephenson, secretary and Eugenia (Hutto) Howard, treasurer.

Wesleyan Alumnae Horse Show May 11

The Macon Alumnae Association of Wesleyan College will sponsor a horse show May 11 in Central City Park. The proceeds will be used for scholarships for deserving students.

The show, which is already being called "the biggest in the South" will have 16 classes with $2,500 in cash prizes, trophies and ribbons.

Entries have been received from Georgia, Tennessee, Illinois and Florida. These will compete in local, out-of-town and out-of-state groups.

Alumnae in charge of the events are Elizabeth (Conner) Tucker, chairman; Aline (West) Willingham and Katherine (Jordan) Stewart, co-chairmen; Elsie (Lowden) Maxwell, treasurer; Valeria (McCullough) Murphy, secretary; Lora (Solomon) McCord, ribbon marshal; Laerne (Clifton) Thornton, publicity and programs; Annie (Ander-

Last Rites Held For Former Wesleyan Teacher

Margaret (Hall) Hazard, AB 1901, died March 17, 1957, after a brief illness. She taught "Rhetoric" at Wesleyan from 1903 to 1912, and through the years has been a loyal Alumna. Mrs. Hazard was an outstanding citizen in her community, being active in the religious, civic and social affairs. She was especially beloved in the Howard Community which is several miles North of Wesleyan.

The Alumnae extend sympathy to her family.

THE WESLEYAN ALUMNAE

Death Claims Member Of Board of Managers

Anna (Weaver) Lee, AB 1926, wife of Dr. W. G. Lee of Macon, died after a few hours illness, March 20, 1957. The entire city was shocked and saddened when announcement was made of her death.

Anna had long been active in Alumnae work of Wesleyan. She was chairman of the Women's Division last year, for the Mercer-Wesleyan Campaign. At the time of her death she was serving on the Board of Managers of the Alumnae Association, was Chairman of the Alumnae Endowed Scholarship for Leadership, was co-chairman of the Beautification Committee for the Conservatory campus.

She was the daughter of the late W. H. M. Weaver and Anna Corry Weaver, the niece of Wesleyan's beloved and lamented Maria M. Burks; she was former principal of Lanier and Miller High Schools. Anna was a member of the Macon History Club, of the Nathaniel Chapter, DAR; of the American Association of University women. Other organizations were fortunate to have claimed her interest and talents also, and have suffered a great loss with us.

Deep sympathy is extended to Anna's family who have for many years been closely associated with the College.
